

Publication: Sino-EU PerMed Policy Brief

On February 17th, 2022 the Sino-EU PerMed project organised the 1st stakeholder workshop with the aim to present the Personalised Medicine landscape in Europe and China, highlight the main challenges to scientific and technological collaboration and initiate a debate on how to strengthen research and innovation between the two Regions. As a result, the Sino-EU PerMed Consortium, together with the Science & Technology Expert Task Force, have elaborated a set of recommendations for policymakers which are presented in the Sino-EU PerMed Policy Brief.

The document addresses three topics: 1. PM landscape in EU and China, 2. Traditional Chinese Medicine in PM and 3. Data sharing. For each topic the barriers and needs are identified and corresponding recommendations are provided.

The Policy Paper will also be presented in our upcoming S&T Webinar on Perspectives in Personalised Medicine: genomics, rare diseases, devices on September 13th.

For more information on the event and speakers please visit the Sino-EU PerMed Webpage. The final agenda will be published soon.
